Name Analyzer for People

There are many reasons you might want to analyze a name - perhaps you are considering a name change or are expecting a child. In any case, it is important to recognize that the name you choose is only one part of the picture that determines who you will become. A name is not unlike a blueprint. It reveals the talents, shortcomings, likes and dislikes (and a wide range of other traits) that were gifted on the day you received your name.

Although your name may remain unchanged for decades, you evolve and change over time. This evolution begins with your date of birth. If a name change takes place later in life, it alters some of the traits and characteristics of the individual going forward, but the birth date and original birth name will continue to have the greatest impact. In short, your name is YOU; your date of birth is YOUR PATH. Intertwined and co-dependent, every building block in a personality's DNA has the potential to change or disappear entirely, just as a missing quality can be learned or unlearned.

HOW TO READ THIS REPORT

No name is perfect. What you should look for are the specific strengths and talents you hope will benefit the person receiving the name. Or conversely, you may want to avoid traits you feel are particularly detrimental to your health and happiness. If the name you are analyzing is for an unborn child, the report will only describe personality traits as reflected in the name you choose. Although it will be an incomplete picture (since the date of birth is unknown) it will still be a specific and detailed reading of the person about to be born.

The full name at birth describes their Personality, Hearts Desire, and Expression. If the child has already been born, use the Name Advisor to try a range of names. Once you have narrowed your choices, you may want to follow up with a complete Personality Profile. The Profile combines the name and date of birth, so it is considerably more expansive and in-depth.

If you are considering a name change for yourself, the Name Advisor provides opportunities to try several names and variations. However, choosing a new name is not unlike buying a suit; it needs to fit. It is less important to find a name with a specific quality than to find one that suits you and feels comfortable to the person you know yourself to be.

Jonathan Neyman

HE HAS A 2 EXPRESSION

The sensitive 2 values relationships and enjoys working with others. He possesses tact, refinement, and a highly developed sense of intuition. His insight into personalities and the ability to read situations help him in fields that require personal interaction. He acts with tact and subtle persuasion. The skilled diplomat, he possesses a sensitive "radar" that helps him avoid potential landmines in another's personality, while eliciting their goodwill. He has an inborn faculty for counseling and psychology, and a talent for music, with a good sense of rhythm and harmony.

His abilities are best expressed while working with others rather than on his own. Likewise, he performs better in a partnership than in a leadership role. He seeks balance and peace in all relationships and situations, which makes him a great asset in any group endeavor. Faced with difficulties, he tends to persevere and steadily erode the opposition. The key to his personality is sensitivity, but there are two sides to this coin. While he is able to perceive the thoughts and emotions of others, and work cooperatively toward shared goals, his sensitivity makes him vulnerable; he can be thrown off balance by an unkind word, a conflict, or hostile work conditions. While others appear to endure troubled times with a modicum of turmoil, he reacts as if his very survival were at stake.

He is friendly, open-minded, and a great support for others, inspiring them to do their best work. He is the indispensable power behind the throne, providing essential insight and advice. Although he can become frustrated when he does not get the credit and recognition he deserves, the enjoyment he gets from being a valued asset is usually satisfaction enough.

Close relationships are essential to his happiness. When single, he dreams of finding his "soul mate." When married, he is considerate of the needs and emotions of his spouse. He makes an outstanding marriage partner, giving, thoughtful, and considerate □ and a passionate lover. Although he makes a great husband, parenting is not an easy role for him. This is probably because he is uncomfortable enforcing discipline and needs a tranquil, harmonious environment.

HIS HEART'S DESIRE IS 5

Freedom is essential to his happiness. He loves change, meeting new people, adventure, and travel. He dreams of visiting exotic, faraway places. Variety is more than just the spice of life □ he requires it. He is extremely curious, flexible and adaptable, with a sharp mind and natural ability with words. He is a born communicator, clear, fluent, and imaginative in every field that interests him, which are many!

His Heart's Desire makes him well equipped for life. Change □ the only constant □ is welcome. He is highly resourceful; he thinks clearly when faced with a crisis and has good mental and physical reflexes. When he falls, he tends to land on his feet.

He is highly enthusiastic, quickly excited over a new idea or opportunity. He is unconventional by nature. A bit of a gambler, he is not averse to taking risks. He is social and rarely, if ever, dull. He is drawn to people like himself □ original thinkers with exciting personalities.

He enjoys being involved in several projects at once, driven by the need for constant stimulation. He quickly discards boring pastimes. He must be careful that his love for sensory pleasure doesn't lead to overindulgence in alcohol, food, sex, or drugs.

His love for freedom and change can have numerous consequences. He can be irresponsible, and finds it difficult to stay disciplined enough to complete a project.

He enjoys being viewed as a hero and would sincerely like to save the world. However, his longing to please everyone (an impossible goal) sometimes causes him to make promises he cannot keep.

Some 5's can be emotionally superficial; they feel love passionately, but fear making lasting commitments. As a result, they tend to avoid intimate attachments, preferring to remain on the surface where it feels safe. Once they do commit, they are among the most loyal of partners.

Experience is his best teacher. The many changes and surprising events he encounters will be instrumental to his personal growth and a full, exciting life.

HOW HIS NAME NUMBERS STACK UP

Many stories have been written about the good son versus the bad son (or, rather, the obedient, responsible child versus the adventurous, wild child). He has within him both sides in approximately equal measures. His loving, sympathetic, and responsible 6 Heart's Desire symbolizes the "good" child, while his adventurous, rebellious, street-smart, versatile, and highly adaptable 5 Personality represents the "bad" child.

During his early years and throughout his late teens, chances are one or the other will dominate. He will be described as either the proverbial "good kid" (maybe too good in the eyes of some), or he will be the one who forever gets into trouble. Whichever side is reflected in his childhood, it takes time for the less prevalent aspect to move to the foreground, gradually bringing more balance to his life.

Finding an outlet for the adventurous, freedom-loving 5, while maintaining commitments to his family, work, and community is crucial, and could be a challenge for him. The 6, his Heart's Desire number, is the most loving of all numbers and it is in loving, lasting relationships that he will find his happiness. For this reason, it is important for him to be part of a community, and to stay involved in the lives of those he cares about.

His 5 Personality, on the other hand, is all about space and freedom, being impulsive and taking risks. It loves travel and living an unconventional life, is hesitant to commit, and dislikes being limited in any way. Clearly, combined with the traits of the responsible, committed 6, there could be some conflict. Fortunately, it is an easy one to remedy, thanks in no small part to his 2 Expression.

His 2 Expression is his stabilizer. This may not make sense considering that the 2 is the most emotional of all numbers, but its strong connection to matters of the heart is precisely what makes it an ideal mediator between his 6 Heart's Desire and his 5 Personality. His 2 Expression makes him intuitive and sensitive. He is better at reading facial expressions and body language than most people are, and has the ability to maintain a peaceful environment, sometimes even among very different people. He is a diplomat, but with a personality that reflects a willingness to take the road less travelled. (Diplomats are normally not expected to be unconventional, but he is.)

The wild streak reflected in his 5 will never leave him entirely, and it is important to fulfill that side of him. Travel, exploring nature, and other activities where space and freedom are a large part of the experience, can help satisfy his restless inner nature. Alternatively, the 5 has the potential to choose a different and less desirable outlet, such as drug or alcohol abuse, overeating, or other addictions (not uncommon in people with one or more 5's among their name numbers).

In his professional life he has a wide range of options, but there, too, a regular change of environment is important. A profession that consists mainly of routine activities should be avoided.

HE HAS A 3 EXPRESSION

The 3 is upbeat, creative, and expressive, making him optimistic, inspiring, and outgoing. People view him as cheerful, positive and charming. His personality has a bounce and verve that attracts others, inspiring them without effort. He possesses tremendous creativity and enhanced verbal skills that could lead to careers in writing, comedy, theater, or music.

He is rich in imagination and spirit, but must be careful not to scatter his talents. He is likely to lack discipline and order in his life, which can lead to a "happy-go-lucky" attitude that avoids responsibility and commitment. The key to his success will be realized through concentration and follow through. He has heightened potential in the arts and fields that require creative problem solving, with an imagination that uncovers unconventional ideas. However, hard work and focus are needed for success. Though he possesses advanced verbal skills, his mind tends to see life in pictures rather than words; he has the ability to think abstractly.

Creativity is a sensitive faculty that is often suppressed in childhood. If he lacks confidence to pursue his ideas, he may divert his abilities into a scattering of trivial pursuits. To overcome this concern, he should limit his vision and the number of activities he pursues, and bundle his energies into a single endeavor. His challenges are focus and commitment.

Love, romance, and money are within his reach. Friends and admirers support him, sometimes appearing out of nowhere to help in key situations. He must learn to involve others in his projects. He has a social nature that requires an audience and the support of others to fully realize his abilities.

On the downside, he can be superficial, moody, and intolerant. He is emotional and sensitive, sometimes presuming criticism where none was intended. He can also be jealous or gossipy, and must be cautious of becoming cynical or sarcastic as these traits can suppress his natural creativity. He must learn to take a practical, step-by-step approach to his larger ambitions. With sustained effort and focus, he has the ability to attain a high degree of mastery.

Experience is his best teacher. The many changes and surprising events he encounters will be instrumental to his personal growth and a full, exciting life.

HIS PERSONALITY IS A 7

The 7 seems mysterious and unusual. People know him as serious, studious, highly independent and self-sufficient. His exceptional intelligence and wisdom are quickly noted; people respect him. He is not one to attract others by his warmth or compassion - though he may be loaded with both - but due to his obvious insight into life's mysteries. He is not easy to get to know, and can seem aloof and withdrawn. He has the makings of an intellectual and aristocrat, but he must guard against arrogance and feelings of superiority.

He appears dignified, regardless of his dress, but a well-groomed 7 with a touch of dash has an advantage. His confidence increases when he knows he presents himself well. His love of knowledge and wisdom is apparent. Many 7's are recognized as spiritual or religious, but he has his own (usually unconventional) views regarding Life and Spirituality. He is an inspired speaker, but only when discussing subjects that interest him - he is not one for idle chatter.

HOW HIS NAME NUMBERS STACK UP

His Expression number is 3, providing charisma, creativity, verbal skills, and a natural ability to inspire and motivate others. This energy draws people in. Others will find him entertaining, a talent that could find expression professionally. The negative side of the 3 can be unfocused and irresponsible, with trouble following through on projects or promises, so he may find it challenging not to spread his energy and efforts with little to show for it. Fortunately, this somewhat fickle and flighty number is teamed with his 7 Personality, pretty much its direct opposite. Serious, inquisitive, spiritual, and philosophical, the studious 7 is the ideal partner to anchor the 3. He may, or may not, be aware of this, but chances are most people will have difficulty "reading" him, at least initially. His serious 7 Personality usually floats on the surface, obscuring the happy-go-lucky 3, but there are plenty of occasions when the sunny, superficial 3 appears. He vacillates between being introverted and extraverted but because he has an additional social, gregarious 5 in his name (his Heart's Desire number) he will project the social, adventurous traits more often.

All of his core numbers are odd numbers, which suggests he tends to be more idealistic than practical, more project oriented than goal oriented, and more flexible and dynamic than stubborn and stable. His 5 Heart's Desire suggests he needs space, change, travel, and variety to be truly happy. Consequently, he does not enjoy routine activities, such as working in the same office every day. He needs adventure and won't be afraid to take risks. However, he can also be impulsive and must learn to think before he speaks (or leaps).

He has a wide range of career options, including retail, marketing, academics, or entertainment (in the performing arts or music). His thirst for knowledge and his intellect fit the academia, but the strict parameters of that environment could be challenging and irritating for the independent 5. His 7 Personality would fit well, but his happiness, ultimately, depends on satisfying his Heart's Desire, so the 5 would have the last word.

HE HAS A 3 EXPRESSION

The 3 is upbeat, creative, and expressive, making him optimistic, inspiring, and outgoing. People view him as cheerful, positive and charming. His personality has a bounce and verve that attracts others, inspiring them without effort. He possesses tremendous creativity and enhanced verbal skills that could lead to careers in writing, comedy, theater, or music.

He is rich in imagination and spirit, but must be careful not to scatter his talents. He is likely to lack discipline and order in his life, which can lead to a "happy-go-lucky" attitude that avoids responsibility and commitment. The key to his success will be realized through concentration and follow through. He has heightened potential in the arts and fields that require creative problem solving, with an imagination that uncovers unconventional ideas. However, hard work and focus are needed for success. Though he possesses advanced verbal skills, his mind tends to see life in pictures rather than words; he has the ability to think abstractly.

On the downside, he can be superficial, moody, and intolerant. He is emotional and sensitive, sometimes presuming criticism where none was intended. He must learn to take a practical, step-by-step approach to his larger ambitions. With sustained effort and focus, he has the ability to attain a high degree of mastery.

HIS HEART'S DESIRE AND PERSONALITY ARE BOTH 6

His attention is directed to helping and caring for those he loves. He is exceedingly domestic. He loves his home and family and works hard to make both comfortable and secure. His love for family and friends is a major source of his happiness and sometimes unhappiness. His desire to help others is so strong he often finds himself sacrificing his own personal needs for someone else's. He can overdo it, becoming too deeply involved in other people's lives. He risks interfering in personal matters and/or smothering those he loves in too much affection. This can be especially weakening to children, who never experience their own personal strength if an adult is too protective.

He radiates understanding and compassion. People sense his warmth and fairness. For this reason, he attracts many people who are in need of comfort, including the disadvantaged. People tend to come to him to unload their burdens. He inspires confidence. He has a fine sense of justice. He does everything in his power to keep the harmony and is even willing to sacrifice his personal desires for the good of others. He can take this too far, however, sometimes playing the role of the martyr. He has to guard against being taken advantage of. He is not always a very good judge of character. He tends to see the best in others. He is hospitable and domestic. He loves children and is a good parent. He is romantic, faithful and very protective.

He is extremely loyal and rarely lets anyone down. He needs to feel appreciation for his giving and caring. He wants to know that he is needed. He is generous and very forgiving. He is somehow able to overlook the worst mistakes in another and finds enough good in that person to continue the relationship. He is patient, warm, and sympathetic, sometimes to the point of sentimentality.

He has a natural ability as a counselor and healer. He is an excellent listener, compassionate and understanding. He is able to both sympathize and empathize with a person's dilemma. His challenge as a counselor is to be adequately educated so that he can do more than provide a sympathetic ear or shoulder.

He possesses a great deal of artistic talent, though he may not have a lot of confidence in his ability. Art gives him a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction. He is especially sensitive to his environment and has a knack for creating an artistic, healing, and harmonious atmosphere in his home or work space.

His deepest intention is to love those around him, and be loved in return. Six is the most loving of all numbers, especially in one-to-one relationships. His instincts are toward his family and friends. He envisions a beautiful and harmonious life with love as the basis for all social interaction. His love is returned manifold; people appreciate him and the love he gives, and are willing to go to great lengths to keep him close at hand.

Six Personality Numbers are exceedingly generous. He is not particularly logical when it comes to finances. He is very vulnerable to praise and criticism. He tends to worry a lot, causing stomach problems.

HOW HIS NAME NUMBERS STACK UP

He has a 3 Expression, a 6 Heart's Desire, and a 6 Personality. All numbers dividable by three are creative, so he will be strong in that area. He has a vivid imagination, and as a child, will easily become lost in a fantasy world. All children do this, of course, but he will find it more confusing, intense, and at times difficult to separate reality from fantasy -- more so than others do. It may take time before he is able to differentiate between the two realms, and some of that uncertainty may stay with him for the course of his life.

On the positive side, his ability to see beyond the ordinary could be employed in a profession requiring imagination and originality. Writing, poetry, acting, dancing, performing arts, journalism, and other careers in the field of communication belong to the domain of the 3. He will rely heavily on his verbal skills in both his professional and personal life; however, be aware that the negative influence of the 3 can be somewhat superficial and irresponsible. It is the least disciplined of all numbers, which could be a challenge in both areas of his life.

His 6 Heart's Desire has a very different and more stabilizing influence on him. Considering that it is the number that "rules" his heart, it reflects what is important to his happiness. Family and friends are crucial. He needs to feel needed and involved, but he will have to be watchful not to sacrifice too much of himself, or to meddle in the lives of others.

The 6 is also artistic, especially in the visual arts. Painters, sculptors, and architects often have a 6 Heart's Desire. Taking into consideration that his Personality number is also a 6, chances are he could be successful in any of the design and artistic professions, although he has a number of other fields to choose from as well. The 6 is the most loving and compassionate of all numbers, so psychology, psychiatry, social work, education, medicine, and other careers that focus primarily on helping others could be a good fit.

His personal life, especially where romance is concerned, may be challenging, as he can be more demanding than most people. A 6 is loyal and committed, but sometimes vulnerable and dependent. It's a contradiction of the 6 that it is the most loyal, sacrificing, and committed of all numbers, yet is slow and careful before making a commitment. This does not stem from a fear of surrendering freedom (as is the case with the 5) but because the longing for connection and commitment is so strong, there is a fear of becoming too vulnerable.

Once committed to a partner he will do anything to make it last. His challenge lies in being comfortable with that. Fear of failure, in his personal life much more than his professional life, can be an obstacle.

Peter Neyman

HE HAS A 1 EXPRESSION

The 1 is a natural leader, independent and individualistic. This makes him ambitious, original, and courageous. He is an explorer and an innovator who employs new and unproven methods. He is self-reliant, confident, and energetic. He easily assumes the role of protector, and springs into action when leadership is needed. He possesses executive abilities and has the qualities needed to successfully own or independently manage a business. Peripheral distractions frustrate him if he is focused on an important task. He needs the freedom to make his own decisions based on his ideas. Fortunately, he possesses the ability to influence the opinions of others.

The number 1 symbolizes the front-runner, pioneer, warrior, risk-taker, and daredevil. Generals, successful businessmen, self-made millionaires, religious leaders, inventors, activists, and avant-garde artists are often born with a 1 Expression.

Strength, perseverance, and a willingness to move away from the beaten path are central to his success. He commands a great reserve of willpower and relentlessly pursues his goals. He is focused and clearly visualizes his goals, which helps make them attainable.

He is highly opinionated, so people tend to be either inspired or repelled by his strong personality. He stands up for his convictions and holds his ground when challenged. He has a tendency to be self-centered and can be domineering □ even a bully in the extreme. He can be highly critical, feeling others lack the industry or determination he possesses. His impatience and tendency to judge others can alienate friends and family members. He must learn to control this inclination if he is to maintain harmony in personal relationships. Once he feels he is right, he can be stubborn and inflexible. It is important that he cultivate balance, compassion, and perseverance.

Pride can be his downfall. He so powerfully identifies with his goals and ambition he sometimes fails to notice a flaw or weakness in his well-laid plans. However, if he remains open and understanding of others, his determination and ability can bring great success.

HIS HEART'S DESIRE IS 7

The 7 loves to study, accumulate knowledge, and seek insight. He values the gifts of his mind, which he uses to penetrate the mysteries of life. He examines his interests in-depth, probing beneath the surface. He abhors shallow judgments and off-the-cuff opinions.

He has a natural gift for analysis and research. Once he has grasped the essence of a subject, his creativity and abstract approach lifts his thinking beyond the rudimentary to the philosophical. He has a conceptual mind, but rather than indulge in fantasies or speculation, he prefers to base his theories upon scientific fact. He enjoys mental and physical puzzles - taking them apart, sorting them out, and putting them back together.

He is naturally somewhat introverted, so some may perceive him as aloof. Many 7's feel they are different from others and don't quite fit in. The life of the hermit or monk engaged in a life of study and meditation appeals to him.

In relationships, he tends to keep things impersonal. He prefers to talk about the facts of a given situation, rather than bringing the murkier issues of emotion and personal feelings into it. In fact, he distrusts feelings - both his own and others'. The emotional realm strikes him as unreliable and superfluous. His inability to fully understand the emotional aspects of life is his Achilles heel: he is so rational, the unpredictability of the heart frightens and confuses him. His challenge is to connect with and trust his heart. It is essential that he open up and share himself with someone, a courageous step that can result in enormous growth and satisfaction.

If he is unable to form an intimate connection, he might marry for convenience or to fulfill social expectations, but he is likely to continue feeling lonely. The more removed he is from others, the more he risks isolation, bitterness, and a cynical attitude toward life. This choice represents a true crossroad in his development. Remaining open to others (without compromising his independence and need for privacy) he can cultivate his enormous charm and share his understanding of life. He is a natural teacher and advisor; the wealth of knowledge he accumulates is meant to be shared with others.

Still, it is important that he not compromise his need for time spent alone to study and contemplate - they are innate aspects of his personality that are essential to his growth. These characteristics should be discussed with a potential partner or spouse, who will need to understand that his need for quiet time is not a reflection of his love or commitment.

He is blessed with a great reserve of intuition, which can be cultivated by regular meditation and contemplation. His "inner voice" is his greatest guide and friend. He is idealistic and has high expectations of himself, but he must learn to balance this serious nature with regular doses of fun. His intelligence and refinement make him charming and distinguished in appearance. As he matures and becomes more comfortable with his identity, people will be instinctually attracted to him, and the wisdom, insight, and sophistication he radiates.

HIS PERSONALITY IS A 3

The 3 Personality is uplifting, inspiring, charming, and energetic. He is fun to be around; his wit and sparkling personality make him the life of the party. He is extroverted, creative, and optimistic. Stylish, romantic, generous, and affectionate, he is much sought after □ although he is likely to fall in and out of love easily. Most 3's are creative in the way they dress.

He should not allow his charm be his sole method of relating to others. His quick wit and playful nature can cause him to rely too much on superficial, humorous conversation at the expense of more satisfying communication. He may need to watch this tendency and make a conscious effort to develop deep, lasting relationships.

The 3 has a distinct "lucky streak" that will attract opportunities throughout his life. He also has a knack for promoting himself and inspiring others. If he can stay focused and disciplined (his challenge), these qualities will almost always ensure his success.

HOW HIS NAME NUMBERS STACK UP

When the serious, studious 7 hooks up with the happy-go-lucky 3, maintaining focus and direction can become a challenge. It will be easy to detour from his path when something attracts his attention. Since 7 is his Heart's Desire, he has an innate yearning to learn and acquire knowledge and insight. On the surface, and in the eyes of those who do not know him well, he may appear to be lacking direction and even seem somewhat superficial.

He has the ability to bring true fulfillment to his life, a potential that is particularly strong in the 3 and 7 combination. Although it generally occurs later in life, attaining this level of contentment places him in a very small and enviable group.

As a young person, maturity may be slow in coming - a side effect of the inquisitive, high-spirited 3 - but there is no harm in taking his time, especially since his inquisitive, curious Heart's Desire assures there is no lack of depth to his personality. There is so much going on in his imagination, intellect, and his attempts to understand the spiritual/intangible side of life, that a few detours are easily forgiven. He should take his time growing up.

He is flexible when it comes to his career as well and will want to explore different avenues. His 1 Expression, backed by a 3 Personality, produces a creative, unconventional, and headstrong individual. Many entrepreneurs are born with a 1 Expression, but if the 7 Heart's Desire has anything to say, financial success will never be his main motivation. Everything is subject to his desire to do something unique, and with ethical and/or spiritual values.

He may find himself a bit of an outsider in his personal life, even in his own family and community (the 7 Heart's Desire often makes for the proverbial lone wolf). This can be difficult while growing up, when peer-pressure could make him feel vulnerable. As he matures, he begins to realize that fitting in is overrated, and his happiness is not threatened by a lack of understanding or acceptance from those around him. He takes the road less travelled because that is where he belongs.

He will prefer to collaborate with a person who is also a little different or eccentric, someone who stands out in some way.

Jonas Neyman

HE HAS A 5 EXPRESSION

A man with a 5 Expression is a free spirit who loves change, adventure, and excitement. As a bird needs to fly, he cannot exist without it. Freedom is the nucleus around which his life revolves; if he uses it responsibly, he will be able to explore and develop all of his varied talents. He is ready-made to meet many types of people and travel great distances. Freedom is the atmosphere he needs to materialize his many talents. This man is capable of doing almost anything, and probably quite well.

He is unusually adaptable - in fact, he welcomes change. He also needs variety and a good challenge. He dislikes a routine life; he becomes miserable when he is held back or held down. The taste, texture, and color of life have an overpowering allure for him. From childhood on, he dreams about seeing foreign lands and experiencing the sensual and exotic. He wants to try everything at least once, as all of life is a playground for his senses.

His adventurous nature can get him into trouble. Somewhat reckless, he may fail to respect his biological or social limits. Boundaries are anathema to him, which may cause him to overindulge his desire for food, alcohol, sex, or drugs.

He is gifted in his ability to communicate, so he makes a good salesman, politician, lawyer, public relations person, or minister. He also possesses the talent to share and advance new ideas. He is skilled with his hands. He loves the new and untried, his field is the frontier. He is a bit of a gambler and often plays for very high stakes. These traits combine to give him a youthful enthusiasm, which others find infectious and attractive. He enjoys working with others but needs to remain unencumbered by their restraints.

He is a clever and quick thinker, but his thought processes □ like the rest of his life □ can become disorganized and scattered. He must stay grounded and focused if he is to realize success.

This man falls in and out of love frequently, especially early in life. He is naturally sensual and commonly has a strong sex drive. This usually makes for a lively and exciting love life, but he must guard against shallow feelings and relationships. His challenge is to develop mature, lasting relationships. Self-discipline and setting healthy limits are key to his success in virtually every area of his life. Ironically, he will find that as he learns to set appropriate limits for himself, he develops more self-mastery and realizes even greater freedom. This is especially true when it comes to finishing what he started (he has a tendency to give up once a project is under control). Bored quickly, he begins to fantasize about his next challenge or the rewards of an accomplishment long before the work is complete.

The 5 Expression desires the entire world and is aware that he has the talent to conquer it. However, attaining success will depend on his willingness to remain disciplined and focused.

HIS HEART'S DESIRE IS 4

The 4 is the bedrock of society. He dislikes sudden changes, preferring to live a stable, well-organized life. His orderly mind is reflected in everything he does. He is exacting with details and quite thorough. He carefully analyzes a problem before tackling it with his logical, practical approach. He is honest and unpretentious. As such, he detests liars and posers. His determination, efficiency, and dependability make him the foundation of any enterprise.

He aspires to be a strong, dependable support for others. Work is central to his life and, if not mindful, he can easily become a workaholic. He is highly energetic and able to accomplish a great deal.

He needs and desires love, but is not particularly demonstrative; his rigid nature can keep him from expressing his true feelings. To form a deep, intimate relationship, he will need to practice displaying his emotions.

He enjoys family life and makes a good parent, however his need for discipline and order can go too far in his personal life. This can make his children or spouse feel repressed. The 4 values structure more than freedom, which he tends to interpret as chaos. It is important that he remember others may not share his need for well-defined systems □ in fact, they may feel deeply inhibited by them. Flexibility is the key to creating a balanced, harmonious environment for his family (and his own life).

HIS PERSONALITY IS A 1

The powerful 1 radiates a dynamic and efficient energy. Others view him as controlled and capable, and sense he will not be pushed around. He values courage and effort in the face of difficulty. He is a pioneer, with his own way of doing things. A risk-taker, original, highly creative, bold, and ambitious, he should be wary of becoming overly aggressive or unreceptive. He can intimidate people if he does not soften his manner - an open attitude will invite others to approach him with their thoughts and ideas.

HOW HIS NAME NUMBERS STACK UP

His core numbers are a 5 Expression, 4 Heart's Desire, and 1 Personality □ a combination he may find challenging. The numbers 5 and 4 are like two people who have nothing in common. His 5 Expression is all about freedom, adaptability, and flexibility. It desires change and adventure, dislikes routine, and is easily bored. It carries a dynamic and often chaotic energy that is averse to being constrained. (His Expression is the number that most reflects his talents and abilities, particularly in his productive life and vocation.) An ideal career would give him plenty of variety, space, and the opportunity to move around or travel. But alas, his 4 Heart's Desire, the aspect that reveals what makes him happy and determines his likes and dislikes, says otherwise. Where his 5 Expression is dynamic, quick-witted, adventurous, and adaptable, his 4 Heart's Desire needs stability, predictability, control, and a home to feel safe in. The contradiction between the conflicting traits is obvious. They will most likely clash often, particularly during his early years.

Aside from his 5 Expression and 4 Heart's Desire, he has a 1 Personality. The 1 brings drive, ambition, leadership abilities, courage, independence, originality and individuality into the picture. The Personality number doesn't carry as much weight as the other numbers because it is more on the surface, rather than a reflection of his deeper "inner" self. However, it is still part of who he is and will be recognized by those around him. He should also be aware of the 1's less desirable traits: stubbornness, jealousy, and a confrontational attitude. With awareness, he can recognize and avoid exhibiting these negative characteristics.

His career options are varied, but making a choice he can stick with may not be easy, due to the contradictory nature of his 4 Heart's Desire and 5 Expression. He may eventually want to venture out on his own. His chart indicates freelancing or owning a business could be a good fit for he.

In his personal life, especially during his younger years, he may have difficulty maintaining a relationship long enough to let it build a solid foundation. He needs to work toward taking control of the restless energy of the 5. If he succeeds in that, it can give him the stability and balance his 4 Heart's Desire requires for true contentment. He is most likely attracted to people who are uncomplicated, have high moral standards, and are more or less predictable; all traits that complement his 4 Heart's Desire.
